

Research Paper and Project Proposal Writing
Under IEEE Student Branch
(15.05.2020 & 16.05.2020)

REPORT

A Faculty Development Program on “Research Paper & Project Proposal Writing” Under IEEE Student Branch was conducted during 15th and 16th May 2020. This FDP was organized by the Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Sree Vidyanikethan Engineering College Tirupati

The key note Speaker of the program is Dr.C.Bharatiraja from SRM University Chennai. I dedicate my gratitude towards the speaker for his excellent series of online lectures on Research Paper & Project Proposal Writing in this pandemic crisis period. More than 1000 members have attended from almost all the states of India.

The FDP focused on different aspects of writing effective research papers and project proposals. The modules in the FDP are designed to guide researchers across disciplines to enhance the skills in planning, writing, and getting the research articles published in reputed journals and also, process for getting funds from the agencies.

In the first and second sessions, the speaker discussed Art of Writing a Scientific Article and its’ Nuances. In the third session he explained on foundations of Research Proposals Writing and Identifying Sources of Funding. In the last session, he shared his experiences: Writing a Winning Grant Proposal, Tips, and Other Metrics.

The speaker gave wonderful lecture and received huge response from the audience. All the sessions were very informative and impressive.
