Report

A Six Day course on “Design Thinking For Entrepreneurs & Startups” was organized by Entrepreneurship Development Cell of MBU, during 26th – 31st December 2022. A total of 515 students from CSE (I – IV B. Tech) were attended the course.

The goal of the course was to provide participants with an in-depth comprehension of design thinking principles, methodologies, and their application in a variety of contexts.

In the introductory module, the participants were introduced to the fundamentals, origins, and core principles of design thinking. They grasped the iterative and user-centred character of the design thinking process.

The discussion on Empathy and user - centred design highlighted the importance of empathy in design thinking. Participants were taught how to empathise with users, conduct user research, and determine their requirements and pain points. The concentration of the module was on cultivating a user-centric perspective to facilitate effective problem-solving.

The “Defining the Problem and Ideation” sessions explored problem definition and ideation techniques. Participants learned how to formulate problem statements, generate innovative solutions, and engage in brainstorming. They were encouraged to think creatively and investigate various possibilities. Likewise, the details of the sessions are briefly discussed below:

The course devoted a substantial amount of time to prototyping and iterative development. Participants gained practical experience constructing low-fidelity prototypes and iterating them in response to user feedback. They learned the significance of rapid prototyping for validation and improvement.

Testing and Validation: This module provided participants with testing and validation strategies and methods. They gained knowledge on how to conduct user testing, collect feedback, and refine their prototypes. The module highlighted the significance of failure as a learning opportunity.

Participants investigated the incorporation of design thinking and business strategy. They learnt how design thinking drives innovation, improves the customer experience, and contributes to the overall success of an organisation. The focus of the module was on creating value by aligning design thinking with business objectives.

Collaboration and Multidisciplinary Teams: Collaboration served as the course's central theme. Participants gained an understanding of the effectiveness of multidisciplinary teams and collaboration techniques. The module emphasised the significance of diverse perspectives in problem-solving and the role of collaboration in producing effective design outcomes.

Tools and Techniques for Design Thinking: In this module, participants were introduced to various tools and techniques for design thinking. They learned how to use journey maps, personas, and empathy maps to acquire insights and guide the design process. The module emphasised the significance of selecting the appropriate instruments based on the context and desired outcomes.

Participants engaged in interactive discussions, case studies, and hands-on activities throughout the duration of the course to reinforce their understanding of the concepts. In addition, they had the opportunity to implement the course's principles and methodologies to a real-world design challenge.

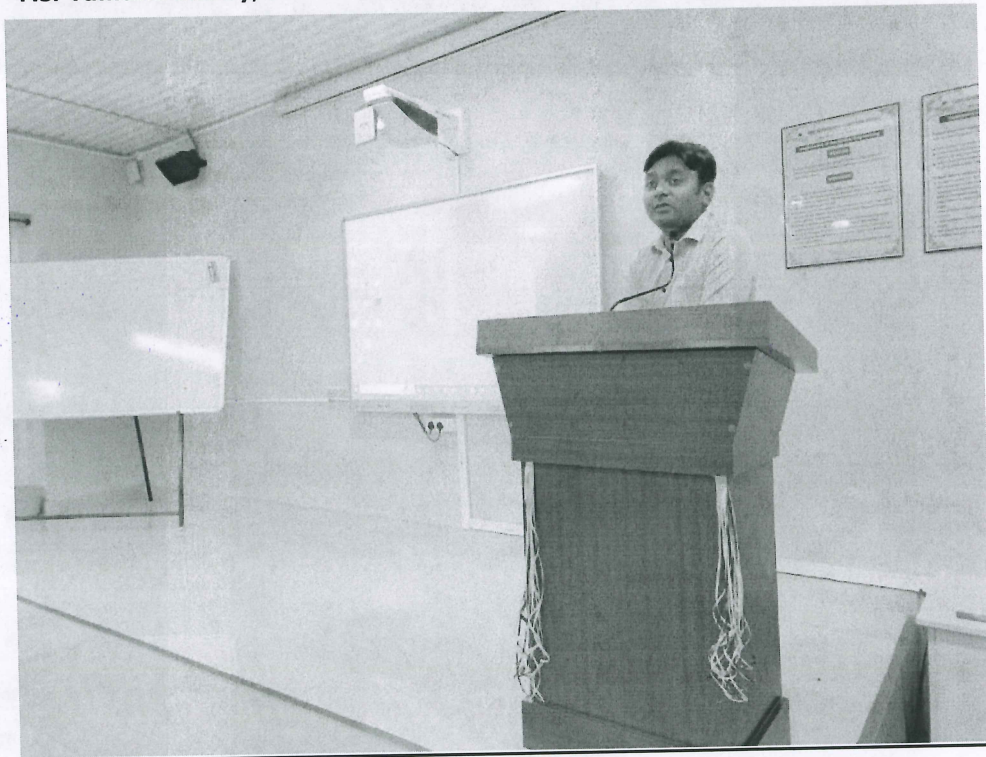

The feedback on the course evaluation was remarkably positive, with participants expressing high levels of satisfaction and appreciation for the sessions' practical approach. They emphasised the significance of the hands-on activities, group exercises, and real-world examples.
